The standard order is the default guideline when no other agreement exists. That is just how I understand it from my attorneys.

You seem to prefer that I transport the children to Saginaw. I can cooperate with that. Please provide me a credit card to charge the airfare, car rental, and hotel. Children will definitely need an accompanying parent if flight is to MBS. No direct flights. Unaccompanied minors is only on direct flights.

I considered your rationale keeping the children beyond your court ordered parenting time and refusing the travel arrangement I purchased for the children.

The November 7 custody DECISION stated that on odd years we share cost of transportation for the Christmas vacation. By my interpretation, a one-way-ticket for each child, with the additional support of the "unassisted minor" service, to return to their home state of Michigan meets that requirement.

In a text message yesterday you stated "we will return to the standard order". While that is not within your right to mandate, I considered what you'd suggested. The standard order states that the person who is starting parenting time must provide transportation. Please refer to the final sentence of the previous paragraph.

In addition, the Standard Order says "the rules of the airline must be followed." According to Southwest Airline, Rocco and Mia were within the age range to travel as "unassisted minors". I believe you were the one to point this out to me verbally the first week of November. Interestingly, if there was a chance of the plane being re-routed, Southwest Airline would not allow the children to travel. That decision would have been taken out of our hands.

Finally, the Standard Order states that children must be transported by the nearest airport. While Flint Bishop may be closest to your parents home, MBS Airport is closest to mine. Please use this airport when transporting the children from now on.

The children need to be returned home immediately. During your October Contempt of Court hearing, Judge Borchard asked me directly if I wanted you to spend time in the Saginaw County Jail. As a social worker in this community, I've heard horror stories about the Saginaw County Jail and I vehemently said I did not, concerned for Peace.

Subject: Arrangements for children's travel to MI

Message:

Hi Melissa,

Mia is still too young to fly by herself and wants a parent. I see that you sent me the children's itinerary yesterday, without a parent. This was after Mia asked you to accompany her and after I gave you the heads up that Mia was going to ask you.

Bottom line: I will not put the children on the plane by themselves (as unaccompanied minors). They need a parent. I have a binary proposal where either: 1) you assume responsibility for their travel and accompany them (I will bring them to airport); or 2) you provide me your credit card so that I can fly out to Flint with children and get first return flight back to Baltimore.

Message:

Hi Melissa,

I have attached the Saturday 12/21 Flint 7pm departure information for Rocco and Mia.

I am proposing that you bring them to Flint Airport at 5pm. I will be there to greet them; however, I think it would be ideal if you escorted them in so that you could gain familiarity with the unaccompanied minor process in Flint.

My hope/intention is that this successful so that 12/21 goes smoothly so that Rocco and Mia can begin having safer, better transportation.

Thank you,

-tony

Message:

Hi Melissa,

I think you should book the following (1/5/2014) flight for Rocco and Mia from BWI to Flint. If you want to book this flight, I will escort them to SWA Departure Gate and I will pay for Rocco's Air Fare.

Bottom Line: If you purchase tickets today (on Cyber-Monday) cost will be $140

Details:

A) Flight #4517: Sunday, January 5th 2014 (9:55 AM BWI Depart) and (11:40 AM Flint Arrive)

B) Rocco's SWA Travel Funds can be access with the confirmation #:GQMTGH

C) If you book Rocco and Mia today (cyber-monday) on this flight, the total cost to you should be about $140

Fare 1 (Mia): Airfare is $90 + $50 Unaccompanied Minor = $140

Fare 2 (Rocco): Airfare is $90 + $50 Unaccompanied Minor - Travel Funds = $0

Message:

Hi Melissa,

I misread the school's email. Mia was sad going to your Mom's house last night and I guess I wanted to jump to the conclusion that it was just because she was getting sick.

At any rate, I would like to talk to her.

Thank you,

- Tony

Hi Melissa,

I received an email from school that Mia is sick. I tried several times to get in touch with the school and with you. I would like to know that Mia has been picked up and what your assessment is of her current condition.

I would also like to talk to my daughter, but have been informed that you are not allowing any of the children to use the phones I gave them.

Please let me know when I can speak to them.

Thank you,

Subject: RE: proposed parenting trade

Message:

Hi Melissa,

I do not think it is a good idea to alter the current parenting plan or have children miss school. However, I am interested in helping make the logistics as simple as possible.

To that end, I would open to discussing logistics involving airline transportation for children on the Christmas holiday.

Message:

Hi Tony,

I am offering to trade 11/27 and 11/28 for two days during the Holiday Break, at your discretion. In the actual trade function I entered my first 4 choices. My mom wants to have Christmas up north, and that would be great if the kids could join us. Most importantly I want to make sure they've adjusted from any transition before starting back to school for the New Year.

Also, while not "best practice" I know a lot of families choose to pull their little ones out of class on the Monday and Tuesday before Thanksgiving.....I don't have a problem with that this year as academics aren't super stringent yet. The way I see it, you could take them to MD for the whole week and avoid the traffic. I know they would love it.
